Cost $20.00

The CD contains my Bibliography of Old West Characters from selected periodical literature, 1953-2003 in rich text (.rtf) and .pdf (for Acrobat reader) formats. All you have to do is pop it into the CD drive in your computer and open the file. The .rtf file should work with any word processor, PC or MacIntosh. The CD has all of the information from Jim Browning's book The Western Reader's Guide: a Selected Bibliography of Nonfiction Western Magazines, 1953-91 (Stillwater, OK, Barbed Wire Press, 1992, $29.95) and an unpublished rough draft for the years 1992-1996. These include bibliographical listings of men and women of the Old West from the 30 western magazines listed in our book, Western Magazine Price Guide and Collector's Handbook (Stillwater, OK, Western Publications, 1995, $8.95) and from several western history journals, including WOLA and NOLA.

The CD format offers advantages not available for hardcover books, including search capabilities, copy and paste and updating the file with new information. Those who wish to have a hard copy can take the CD to a copy center and have a printout made.

We will be offering revised, updated versions periodically for the special cost of $12.00 for those who have purchased our original CD.

Special offer - For an extra $5.00 ($25.00 total cost), we will include a copy of The Western Reader's Guide and Western Magazine Price Guide and Collector's Handbook along with the CD. Or these can be purchased separately for $15.00 and $5.00 respectively without the CD.
